About Kim....

Kim has been training dogs for over 25 years. She owns and operates Pawsitive Steps Canine Sports Centre in Prince George, BC, a training facility dedicated solely to the promotion of positive, non-aggressive training techniques for pet and performance dogs.

Kim's teaching background comes from spending 20 years as a dance teacher and choreographer. She now devotes herself full time to helping people and their dogs develop positive relationships through education, training and canine sports.

Kim competes in AAC, UKI and USDAA Agility. Kim has had an impressive agility career over the last 20 years, winning both the USDAA National Agility Championship and three Canadian National Agility Championships along with 13 Regional Agility Championships with four different dogs to date. She has been an AAC Masters level judge since 2000.

Kim has also competed in CKC Obedience and CARO Rally Obedience earning multiple titles with multiple dogs.

Kim shares her life with her husband Rob and their dogs ranging in age from 1 to 13 years old. Currently the household is five border collies and one sheltie. Continuing Education: Kim continues to contribute her knowledge back to the agility community she loves by traveling and teaching seminars all over Canada. She also hosts an annual Agility Camp for Puppies and Novice dogs right through to Masters level dogs. To ensure that her seminar content is always the most up to date training methods, she regularly attends seminars and workshops presented by many of the top agility handlers and trainers in the sport.

International Experience: Kim was a member of the Agility Association of Canada's 2004 Canadian World Team with two of her dogs, Bryn and Feyd, and traveled to Valencia, Spain to compete. Kim was the Captain and Coach for the CKC Agility Team Canada 2010 and 2011. This team represents Canada at the FCI World Championships, the largest Agility World Championship for our sport. Kim was also the Coach for the 2011 WAO Agility World Team competing in England May 2011. Kim and her border collie Fenway qualified for a spot on the 2017 Canadian EO Team as well as the 2018 Canadian WAO team that competed in the Netherlands in May.

Kim's book "From the Ground Up" an agility foundation training manual, came out in July of 2006 and can be ordered through Dogwise. Kim has written articles on the sport of agility for both Clean Run and DogSport magazines.
